We have had a great start to Term 3 at both schools. Despite the limited, thus more condensed play space, the IPS students have adapted well and modified their recess activities accordingly. Thanks to Mrs Eldred and other staff who will be facilitating lunchtime clubs. The Kongwak students have dug out the beanies, scarves and gumboots to cope with the chillier and windier Kongwak weather.

With all the rain over the holidays, the IPS schoolgrounds are rather wet and muddy. The oval is out of action again, however Mrs McRae is trying her best to get a capital works grant to install better drainage and replace the poor quality soil (?) we have. (Perhaps third time lucky). Students are asked to keep out of the mud and most of them do this the best they can but there is mud everywhere so a change of clothes, especially pants would be helpful, especially for the younger ones.

We will continue to install areas to maximise our precious dry spaces and turn wet boggy areas to dry in winter such as the area outside of Mrs Jamieson's room. Plans are afoot for a new sandpit and outdoor learning space.

Whilst at Kongwak Primary School, Damian has been working with students to extend the iilk path and make better use of wet and soggy areas. He also has some more great ideas to showcase the sustainability focus of the school.

Congratulations to the Inverloch Preschool on the commencement of their much-awaited major landscaping project. It looks like it is going to provide for some exciting imaginative and exploratory play.

Part of the Inverloch Primary School car park is used as part of the construction area so pressure on car parking around the school has increased as it usually does in winter.

Please read the page on parking at our school to keep our students safe.

CALLING ANY VIT REGISTERED TEACHERS

We have been fortunate to have fantastic emergency teachers to cover staff absences and even have many of them join our staff more permanently. However, we are now seriously short of emergency teachers causing grade splits or cancellation of specialist programs. As the year progresses and staff changes, this shortage will be even greater.

If you are a VIT registered teacher or know of someone, please make contact with Mrs McRae for possible days.

ILLNESSES

We still have COVID and the flu going around. Please refrain from sending students to school who have symptoms. While symptoms such as coughing and sneezing are not serious, they spread the illness to staff and students causing great inconvenience to other families.

THE GREAT FETE 2024

✉ ikpsfete@gmail.com f inverlochkpsfete

Our fete early this year was an amazing day for our school community, so many happy and smiling faces on all the kids (and the adults too)! To ensure that the fete in 2024 is just as amazing, we need lots of help. All sorts of skills are required. You might be good at logistics, or an amazing face-painting artist, or happy to develop and foster community connections, or a whizz on the barbecue. You don't need to come to every meeting or contribute to every aspect to be involved. We are meeting on Monday (17 July) evening at 7pm in the school staff room to establish the committee for the 2024 fete. Please come along and see how you can be involved and make the smiles even bigger in 2024.

Sports Report

Yesterday Thursday 14 July, over 1700 Victorian students converged on the Yarra Glen Racecourse, Yarra Valley Racing, for the first running of the State Cross Country Championships since 2019.

Congratulations to Charlotte and Rahvi for competing at State Level in Cross Country. They are both proud of their efforts and placings.

WE NEED 2 LITRE SOFT DRINK BOTTLES

Grades five and six will be designing and building bottle rockets in term 3. All bottles will be useful but each team must have a two litre plastic bottle. Please bring clean bottles with the lids to the STEM room. Thank you.

A big thankyou to

😊 our maintenance person, Andre, for cleaning up all the playground mulch that was moved around the school by the water. He has also installed new playground edges that have deteriorated with age and use.

😊 Damian and his helpers at IPS for the improvements they make around the school.

😊 Craig McCaughan and others for spreading the playground mulch.

Upcoming changes to NAPLAN reporting

Ahead of NAPLAN results for students being released from Monday 17 July 2023, I'm writing to inform you of some changes to this year's reporting. These are changes being introduced nationally by the Australian Curriculum Assessment and Reporting Authority (ACARA).

NAPLAN will continue to measure student achievement in numeracy, reading, writing, spelling, and grammar and punctuation but the results will now be presented in 4 proficiency levels:

These are:

- exceeding
- strong
- developing
- needs additional support.

This change will give schools, parents and carers clearer information that details student achievement against new proficiency levels.

Students' NAPLAN reports will continue to show how they are tracking against their peers and provide an indication of their skill levels against national averages and where we would expect them to be in order to get the most out of schooling. This provides valuable information to teachers about how we can continue to support your child.

Each set of NAPLAN results is an important milestone but it's also important that students know that one result does not define them – these results are about making sure every student gets the support they need so they can continue to get the best from their learning.

When we provide you with your results, you will also receive information about what the new proficiency levels mean.

As ever, you're welcome to speak to me, or your child's teacher with any questions about these changes.

SCHOOL WIDE POSITIVE BEHAVIOUR SUPPORT

This week we have begun learning about being an Active Learner. Our focus has been on developing a GROWTH MINDSET. In classes, students learnt about what growth and fixed mindsets are and how to switch from a fixed mindset to a growth mindset. Hint: Our words matter!

- A Growth Mindset is knowing that, with practise, we will get better at something.
- A Fixed Mindset means you think you can't get better at things, even if you practise.

Today in assembly, students were challenged to select a Growth Mindset statement to practise regularly at school and at home so they are readily able to use this positive self talk when they feel challenged by their learning. Hint: Feeling challenged by our learning is a signal we are on the verge of learning something new. We encourage you to talk to your children about what they know about having a growth mindset.

For further information about Growth Mindset, and how to support your child with shifting their mindset, please read the attached one page document, "Parent's Guide to a Growth Mindset." For a more in depth understanding about growth mindset, consider reading the following blog from Big Life Journal,

"Growth Mindset vs. Fixed Mindset: Key Differences and How to Shift Your Child's Mindset"

This coming week are continuing our focus toward being an Active Learner and we will be unpacking the behavioural expectation, "We Let Others Learn"

Social Emotional Learning (SEL)

For the first three weeks of this term, students across the school will be focussing on Positive Coping.

We all experience a variety of different emotions as we live, play, learn and work in the world. We need coping skills to help us manage our feelings in safe and healthy ways. But there isn't a "one-size-fits-all" strategy or strategies. Not all skills will work for all people or even for the same person all of the time.

Students will learn about and practise a range of different coping tools, and will reflect upon their usefulness in a range of situations and when experiencing various emotions. The aim is for students to be able to deliberately utilise productive coping strategies and diminish their use of unproductive strategies.

Two strategies that students were exposed to this week were Square Breathing and a Grounding Exercise.

Square Breathing

Start at the bottom right of the square, and follow the arrows around the whole square to complete one deep breath.

5 - 4 - 3 - 2 - 1 GROUNDING EXERCISE

 5 Things you can SEE

 4 Things you can FEEL

 3 Things you can HEAR

 2 Things you can SMELL

 1 Things you can TASTE

We encourage you to practice these strategies with your children at home.

Deep breathing helps get more oxygen into your bloodstream, opening up your capillaries. It has a physical effect on your body to help you calm down and lower stress. Taking slow, calm breaths is one way for your body to communicate to your brain that you are safe and it's ok to calm down. If you practise your deep breathing every day when you're calm, it will be easier to do it when you need it!

A Message from our Chaplain

Hi everyone

What a delight it is to be able to return to school this week and see children interacting and catching up with each other. In fact, students were so busy reconnecting with their peers, we had relatively low numbers come along for a hot chocolate, juice or sandwich on Monday morning. On Tuesday we were able to greet 75 students. We serve breakfast outside the Art room area from 8.30am and finish up by 9.00am so pop by and say "Hi".

We love to connect with the students and hear about holiday activities, movies they have seen recently, the teeth that came out, haircuts and for some children, a new pair of shoes. Children generally love to share their news with the team of volunteers and we love it when they ask us how we are going!

Using yarn to make friendship bracelets and learning how to finger knit out in the playground seems to be another way to connect with children. If your child is looking for a quiet place there is also the Lunchtime Lounge where children can go inside a classroom and foyer area and enjoy activities like colouring, games, puzzles, playing with cars and roads, etc

I know as parents and carers we also enjoy hearing about the school day children have had.

Some days our children are quite tired at the end of a school day. They are taking in the information from their teachers, working through the cognitive, emotional and social demands of school life, and just need to relax through play and have something to eat, before they want to talk. Rather than asking these questions at the busy, noisy school pick up time or when you are using your phone or children are on devices, try asking it at the dinner table or as part of bedtime routine. Have a bit of fun when opportunities come up to use imaginary scenarios "What do you think would happen, if instead of driving home I drove us all to the moon?" Children often enjoy nonsense scenarios and can come up with some wonderfully creative responses and scenarios of their own.

Often adults ask children closed ended questions which will generate single word responses. When we ask questions like "How was school today?" we get a response - "Ok" - "What did you do?" response - "Nothing", we might feel our children don't want to talk about school. Try asking open questions, "What was something good that happened at school today?" or "What was something that you enjoyed at school?", "What are you proud of?", "Who did you help today?". Mostly our children want us to take an interest in what they are saying and we can do this by being focussed on them and be actively listening.

Treasure these special moments and stages of your family life.

Please feel free to contact me through the office or your classroom teacher if I can support you or your child in any way.

Kind regards

Kerry Ware

During STEM we have been learning about some of the amazing past, and present contributions made to science and engineering by Australia's First Nations people. These are the oldest living cultures with much knowledge and understanding of the world around us.

An incredible invention, most likely the first to consider aerodynamics, were the array of boomerangs. As part of celebrating this amazing engineering students created their own paper finger boomerangs with the goal of them returning.

A great children's book to learn more about all the Deadly Inventions and Innovations from Australia's First Peoples, The First Scientists, is one of many amazing STEM themed books available in our school library.

Acknowledgement of Country

We at Inverloch and Kongwak Primary Schools acknowledge that we live and learn on the traditional lands of the Bunurong and Boon Wurrung people.

We recognise that Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders Peoples have a long standing scientific knowledge of the world developed and shared over many generations.

Winter School Holidays

Winter School holidays always starts off extremely wet and cold. These holidays were no different, for the first couple of days we were unable to go outside due to the weather. A couple of days it did stop raining enough for us to eat outside which was a nice break to enjoy some fresh air.

During the first week we got to enjoy a trip to the movies to see the elemental movie. The children got to enjoy popcorn and a drink during the movie (or before the movie if your like half of the children and finish your popcorn before the movie even begins).

During these school holidays we got to enjoy multiple incursions, we got our own recipe books and ravioli making kits, we decorated capes & masks, enjoyed a Superhero incursion, and knitted some blankets to take home and knitted some blankets to donate.

Everyone got to bake their own cupcake and honey joys, the children enjoyed both for afternoon tea before taking a couple spares home to share with their loved ones.

SUPERHERO'S!

Over the past two weeks we have explored Superheros. Superheros within ourselves, Comic book Superheros and Superheros in our life.

We got to create our own masks, capes and participate in a Superhero Incursion where we explored ourselves as Superheros and discovered what kind of Superhero we would be.

Excursion: Inflatable World

In the second week of school holidays we were off to Inflatable World. Upon arrival to the service everyone quickly saw a familiar face and got very excited as we were lucky enough to have Ronan take a break from relaxing over his school holidays to come on the excursion with us.

We loaded all 45 children onto the bus and off we went.

The children & staff had a amazing time, enjoying everything on offer. The children did amazing with the longer bus trip and have asked if sometime soon we can return to inflatable World.
