SWIMMING

Next week we are swimming each day at Leongatha Splash! Please make sure you bring:

- Towel
- Bathers
- Plastic bag for wet clothes
- Goggles
- Extra snacks

every day. We will be swimming in the afternoon, so plan to have an early lunch and longer play, with a snack when we return.

GRADE 6 CAMP

Grade 6 students are off on Melbourne camp between Wednesday and Friday! Please meet Mr and Mrs Slidders, Mrs Forster and Mrs Trezise at the Inverloch football oval between 8am and 8:15am on Wednesday morning and hand any medication to Mrs Trezise. Fiona is looking forward to joining them for the day on Thursday!

THANK YOU

To Natalie for picking up our 'new' tables for the SMART Room from Nyora Primary School! We really appreciate your help.

KONGWAK BIG NIGHT IN

Our 2023 Big Day Out is actually a Kongwak Big Night In- we will be sleeping over at school! Mr Smith, Sally, Fiona and Damian have been working hard on locking in the details for this exciting event. Stay tuned for more details!

BOOK FAIR

We have our second Book Fair for the year opening on Monday- the theme is "Hats Off To Reading!". To celebrate, on Monday 23rd of October we will have a Hat Parade at our usual assembly. Bring a hat along- it could be something from home, from the dress up box, an old hat you've decorated or even a hat you've made. We will do a lucky raffle draw with the opportunity to win Book Fair vouchers- everyone has the opportunity to win! Thanks to Cass & Kate for setting up the Book Fair and to Virginia for organising it once again.

Year 3 / 4 Excursion to Melbourne

Despite some very wet weather, the Grade 3/4s and Fiona had a great time visiting Melbourne with the Inverloch students and their teachers. We had lunch at Federation Square before visiting ACMI, and then got back on the bus to visit the Lume. So much fun!

Congratulations to Daisy and James, winners of this week's SWPBS raffle!

Well done, Poppy!

Congratulations to Poppy! Her story, "Picture Perfect World" was selected to be one of only 20 finalists in the Fishy Stories competition, out of 750+ entries. She will have her work read out at the Fishy Stories Festival in November! She worked hard and took on feedback to improve her use of dialogue and to keep her work under the word limit. We are so proud of her.

Picture Perfect World

Everyone who lives in my city has a perfect life. Perfect features, perfect houses, perfect jobs, perfect everything. But there's a reason, everyone is picture perfect. There's a law that everyone has to be perfect. Every day, when I wake up, and put on my perfect dress, heels, hat and jacket, I feel like I'm slowly breaking, slowly but painfully.

"Good morning darling! It's Monday, so remember, it's the day they check everything, so I suggest doing your makeup." says mum,

"Fine, I just don't get how everyone has to be the same. Women are housewives, men get jobs in business. What if I wanna go to work?"

"Sweetie, we've talked about this."

"I don't care!"

1.

A knocking sound comes from the door, "Hello? It's 10am, time for a check"

"Run, put on makeup."

I nod, scared for my life. If one single thing isn't perfect, it's literally the end of your life.

"Everything looks perfect, can I check the bedrooms?"

"Of course," answers Mum.

We follow him into every room, then he gets to the bathroom. "Is that makeup?"

I...forgot to put it away.

"I'm going to have to file a report, do you realise this could be the end of all of your lives, even your husband's?"

2.

"Why? Why is this stupid rule real, anyway?" I ask.

"Haven't you read the daily newspaper? This perfect world thing is ending in three weeks."

"Why'd we have it in the first place?"

"Population control" he replies.

"So I get to just be me?"

"Maybe, but there's a problem, if we end up stopping everyone from being picture perfect, this man will move in, kill the president, and put it back to being picture perfect on the daily. Odd, isn't it?"

"Odd..."

3.

He walks out the door. I think he forgot about the makeup.

"Have a perfect day! Goodbye", he says while leaving.

"Huh..."

"Are you happy about it being discontinued, even though it's possible it may come back?" Mum asks.

"But what if the guy comes?" I add.

"What would you do if I told you I am the guy?"
